

Los Angeles CAMFT Expressive Arts Special Interest Group

invites you to a special Two (2) Part Workshop on

Sandplay® Therapy

An introduction to the Jungian based method of Sandplay therapy

The two consecutive workshops are an introduction to the Jungian based method of Sandplay® therapy

Participants will be given an opportunity to experience the power of the symbols and the effects of a non-verbal way of working with the psyche. The workshops offer a glimpse of the rich possibilities this method offers. Information will be provided about opportunities to seek further training for those participants who are intrigued by the therapeutic possibilities provided by Sandplay®.

In this two part workshop you will:

Gain a basic understanding of:

- Sandplay® history, method, and underlying theory
- Experience the power of working with the sand and figures through experiential exercises
- Watch the unfolding of a Sandplay® process through a case presentation
- Learn about opportunities for Sandplay® training

When: Sunday, October 27th and Sunday November 17th.
Your registration and fee covers both sessions.
